In the Cavern

The Big Room Trail can be enjoyed on your own and is partially accessible to visitors using wheelchairs and walkers. The non-skid trail is paved with a mixture of emery chips and epoxy. The trail, which is about 1.25 miles (2 km), begins at the Underground Lunchroom. About two-thirds of the Big Room Trail is wheelchair and walker accessible, with interpretive signs along the trail and audio guides available from the bookstore. Use the map on the back of this brochure as a guide.

Visitors using wheelchairs should go into the Big Room only with assistance.

Both the map and barriers on the trail define areas open to wheelchair and walker users. Some areas are closed due to steep grades and narrowness of the trail. Please do not take wheelchairs or walkers into closed areas or leave them unattended. Accessible restrooms are available in the Underground Lunchroom. For wheelchair users to access the elevator lobby from the Underground Lunchroom, use the phone mounted on the kiosk counter. Press the button to call. A ranger will come to assist you and open the revolving door.

Note: The Natural Entrance Trail, King's Palace, and caving tours are not accessible to visitors using wheelchairs or walkers. Exhibits and photographs of these areas are offered in the visitor center.
