

From: (b)(6)
To: Chris_Lehnertz@nps.gov; karen_washington@nps.gov
Cc: (b)(6)
Subject: The biggest mistake you could ever make in your life
Date: Tuesday, May 27, 2014 7:55:30 PM

It has come to my attention that "Currently the GGNRA is pushing forward with three separate plans that seek to limit access to areas like Fort Funston, Rancho Corral de Tierra and the Marin Headlands. Two of those plans could be signed off on as soon as this week—the General Management Plan, which would establish zones where the GGNRA could actually prohibit people from doing things like picnicking at most of Ocean Beach; and a rule that would create restrictive and expensive permits for professional dog walkers who people count on to make sure their pets receive appropriate exercise"

In fact, I have been tracking this issue for some time, have read through the voluminous plan itself, and have sent you an email in the past. I can't overstate how short sighted and myopic the NPS would be to put forth such regulations. You know yourself that you've received 10K-15K negative comments, because that's what you got last time you tried this. Although you seem to be unreachable bureaucrats impervious to public opinion, I beg you to reconsider and leave things as they are. Your GMP and the proposed GGNRA restrictions are both unnecessary and unloved by the public. If you don't listen to us individually, pay attention to the City of San Francisco Supervisor who told you to drop these ill conceived and poorly executed plans.

Otherwise we'll have to go to Washington like Feinstein tried and see if we can get them to cut your budget across the board to get your attention.

Dave Marutiak

"To err is human, to really mess things up takes a politician"