Dear Christine,

Please do not sign the General Management Plan for changing recreational park access to GGNRA parks.

As a lifelong resident of San Francisco I am deeply troubled by the language used in the GMP. I think the plan needs serious revision before being signed, otherwise I may find myself without access to the park land that I have loved using my whole life. Furthermore, if the GGNRA parks see extreme restrictions in how the park can be used, we will see a massive overflow in our city parks creating vast and accelerated environmental destruction as well as utter chaos due to overcrowding by individuals, dogs, and dog walkers among others.

The bay area has minimal recreational park land as it is, and the GMP is worded in a way that would allow for even further restrictions to where we can go for some fresh air and outdoor activity. This is unacceptable and I implore you not to sign.

Thank you,

Andrew Keller
