Hey there, Chris,

Hope you're well. I know you have a tough job. Thanks for taking it seriously.

Please don't sign the limit. I support the mission of the GGNRA, and expect you do, too. Currently, it includes "recreation" and should be kept that way; it was created to support recreation for the densely populated San Francisco urban area.

It's only getting more densely populated here. I left the Bay Area and spent a decade in Chicago. That place reminded me every day: people need a place where they don't feel crowded, even if it's just a place they visit.

Let us continue to walk our dogs and kids in the sun.

Val
