Dear Ms. Lehnertz,

The GGNRA is an URBAN RECREATION AREA, and those of us who own and care about dogs feel that you should hold off signing the GMP. The National Park Service, as a governmental agency, should take its mission seriously, and involve the public in its decision-making in a substantial way.

I hope you will re-open the document to everyone and merge the GMP with the Dog Management Plan. We do not want the GGNRA to predetermine where dog walking access can occur without due public process. These are public lands and the GGNRA and the National Park Service need to listen to us, the public. The entire community should have the opportunity to participate in this important decision.

Thank you,

Mary Gregory
