Howard,

These are nicely to the point. Two suggestions.

1) "implementation of specific projects identified in the GMP will have its own planning process with opportunities for the public to participate." Avoid "on the ground" since someone may think this will exempt the reservation system which has no ground disturbance. Also avoid public "review" process, which is technically true, but it seems to imply that public approval is necessary for all projects.

2) I suggest we apologize for not clarifying the relationship between the GMP and the ongoing Muir Woods planning process. Your note comes close.

Here are some draft "Key Points" to be used in Tam Valley, MW Park, and other Marin blogs, IJ, etc. They are meant to succinctly directly address the concerns that have been specifically raised in the past 24 hours. Need comments by tomorrow AM early.
